3) Read the following passage and do the activities that follow:

My tenth birthday was one of the most memorable days in my life. That day there was a grand party to celebrate my birthday. The party was arranged by my maternal uncle who lives in Bombay. My maternal aunt came one week before the party, and she bought everything for the party. She decorated my room with balloons and many colourful lights. She made the cake herself for my birthday. It was the most delicious cake I have ever tasted. When I asked her, "When will Mama come?" She replied, "He will come when the party starts. There is a big surprise for you." I was so excited. At the time of blowing the candles, Mama came. And with him came a very famous person. He was my best film actor with whom I ever want to meet, Salman Khan. I still remember the kiss on my forehead that he gave me while wishing me a happy birthday. He said, "Happy Birthday Kanchan!"
